

CHENELLE FRASER ART

LIVE WEDDING PAINTING

Intimate, heirloom-style portrait created on your wedding day.

The Process

- Initial enquiry

We discuss your idea, your venue, preferred size, inspiration and timeline. We also discuss any extras you would like to add. Pets, family members who can't attend, or anything meaningful you would like to include.

- Booking & deposit

A 50% deposit secures your wedding date

- Prepping the canvas

Each canvas is primed and toned before the wedding day. Here we also have the opportunity to add a poem, song lyrics, or just leave the canvas toned. This will be covered by the final painting, so this is just for you.

- On your wedding day

Chenelle arrives early, sets up her easel and starts painting the backdrop to your preferred moment. When both the bride and the groom are ready, we take the reference photo. Chenelle continues painting during the ceremony and reception. The painting is revealed to the bride and groom at the end of the wedding day. The painting travels back to Chenelle's studio where she can spend time finishing it to her usual standard.

- Studio hours

At the studio the portrait is built up slowly in layers, focusing on realism, atmosphere, and emotional connection. Throughout the painting process, updates are shared and limited revisions can be made as the painting develops.

- Final review & delivery

Once completed, the painting is carefully packed and shipped to you.

Sizes and Pricing

I work within a limited size range to ensure quality and consistency. The prices below are based on artwork featuring one couple and a simple background. Quotes may vary depending on the complexity of the reference image and any extras you would like to add.

As 2027 is my launching year, I'm introducing special launch rates for all bookings in 2027.

Live wedding painting will be offered at my standard commission rate, with no extra costs for pre-wedding consultations or on-the-day attendance.
